DiscountCall Economic Relief Package Gives Companies Opportunity to Purchase Telecommunications Service and Receive Equipment for Office

Atlanta-based Telecommunications Company Launches Program Designed to Stimulate Business Growth

ATLANTA- (November 18, 2008) - The signs of economic turmoil permeate every aspect of society and the business landscape. Companies, large and small, are closing at an alarming rate. Bank closings have created a credit crisis. The entrepreneurial spirit has proven in the past to be the key to overcoming difficult economic times, but capital can be hard to come by. DiscountCall.com, Inc, a national telecommunications company, is launching a program to help businesses gain necessary resources by leveraging their most common business expense, telecommunications service.

The DiscountCall Economic Relief Program allows companies to use part or all of what they pay for their telecommunications services to subsidize equipment purchases when using one of DiscountCall's participating service partners. The program is designed to help:

- Businesses purchase necessary equipment to set up their office environment; including phone systems and other related technology equipment.
- Successful companies expand to new offices while minimizing their capital investment
- Established companies upgrade from older equipment

The DiscountCall Economic Relief Program can also help companies buy out of telecommunications contracts that they are unsatisfied with as well as provide flexible financing for phone system purchases.

"The economic crisis has certainly made it more difficult for ambitious entrepreneurs to achieve the success they worked so hard for," said Randy Berlin, president of DiscountCall.com, Inc. "DiscountCall, with the help of some of our telecommunications service partners, is launching this program to encourage businesses to purchase the service and equipment necessary to position themselves for success."

Certain restrictions apply, not all customers will qualify for the DiscountCall Economic Relief Program. For more information, call DiscountCall at 404.844.6800. You can also learn more about this program by visiting <http://www.discountcall.com/econrelief.html>.
